

SEN. SPOONER ON PHILIPPINE BILL

The Wisconsin Senator Is Talking on the Subject This Afternoon.

FOR GOVERNMENT

He Is Making a Strong Argument for the Present Policy.

HOAR VERY ANXIOUS

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Today marked the actual beginning of the end of the battle that has been raging in the senate for six weeks past over the bill providing for a civil government for the Philippines. The senate met an hour earlier than usual in order to clear up other business. Senator John C. Spooner of Wisconsin is talking on the bill. He is the open champion of the administration and his debate has been waited with interest by those who have not yet made up their minds fully as to how to vote.

Spoke Off-Hand

Senator Spooner is regarded as one of the best lawyers and strongest debaters in Congress, and being moreover the author of the law under which the president is now conducting affairs in the Philippines. Mr. Spooner is full of his subject, and is making a complete and eloquent defense of the American army, and will handle under gloves those who have denounced it. Senator Spooner never prepares a speech in advance, but speaks extemporaneously, often taking notes and sometimes none at all. He has made more elaborate preparation than usual for today's effort.

Will Reply To Hoar

Mr. Spooner's speech will in a way be a reply to the speech of Senator Hoar made last week. Mr. Hoar was solicitous about getting an assurance from Senator Lodge that Mr. Spooner would speak today and not on Saturday, because if he should choose the latter day Mr. Hoar would only have fifteen minutes in which to reply to him, and that would not be enough for him by any means.

Wisconsin, Chicago and Michigan Head the List of Possibilities.

Chicago, May 29.—The conference meet which will be held next Saturday afternoon on Marshall Field offers an interesting problem for the dope makers. At present it looks as if either Chicago, Wisconsin, or Michigan would carry off the Western championship banner. Coach Stagg said yesterday afternoon that these three seemed to stand pretty closely together, Wisconsin having perhaps a little the best show as far as predictions go. The result of the meet seems likely to be influenced by dark horses. The firsts can be quite closely reckoned on, but it is probable that the second and third places will be taken by men who cannot be predicted.

In the 100-yard dash Blair of Chicago shows the best chance of winning. Hahn and Lieble of Michigan will run him a close race and will pull out several points for Michigan. Moloney of Chicago has shown great form in this event, as have also Bockham of Minnesota and Page of Wisconsin, but as all three will enter in other events they will probably not compete in the hundred.

Moloney of Chicago who has done two-fifths of a second better than Merrill of Beloit, is looked upon as a sure man in the 220-yard dash. He is expected to break the record, with Merrill second and Blair third.

In the 120-high hurdles Moloney is expected to break the record of 15 4-5, which he holds himself. Bockham of Minnesota has done as well and he is looked upon as a close second to the Wisconsin hurdler. Schue of Wisconsin is a strong man in this event, but as he has been laid up it is uncertain whether he will be in shape. If he is it is likely that two-thirds will go to him or to his teammate Saradakis.

The half-mile run will be a great race between Breitkutz and Daniels of Wisconsin. Chicago has no men who are in shape for this event. Herrick of Illinois and Foster of Michigan will doubtless show up for second and third, with a close race between them.

The pole vault will be one of the best events of the whole contest. Magee of Chicago has the best record in this of any of the men competing but he has been put back considerably by the delay in receiving his pole, which was being made in the East. It was expected yesterday and now Magee will devote his whole attention to working up his form for the meet. Dvorak of Michigan will push Magee hard in the vault and Fishleigh will follow with third.

The discus will probably go to Rodman of Illinois, who has been doing over 120 feet. Snow of Michigan will prove a close second, and Spelk of Chicago is counted on for third.

HEN TAKES A RIDE

Makes Her Nest in Back of Buggy and Travels.

A farmer's wife, from near Footville, drove into the city yesterday to do some shopping and put her horse in one of the local livery stables. After she had gone down town, the livery man went to the buggy to get the halter for the horse and discovered a hen sitting on a nest full of eggs in the back part of the box.

She had made the journey from Footville to Janesville without making any disturbance so that the farmer's wife had not known that she had a passenger. She was not at all disturbed when discovered by the liveryman and was still on the nest when the farmer's wife started for home.

A Witty Retort

A New Englander about 70 years old, having learned that Dr. Henry Van Dyke made occasional expeditions to Canada and elsewhere in search of big game, recently sent him a pen drawing made by himself of a stag, and underneath placed this motto in large letters: "Thou Shalt Not Kill." Mac-Cartney of Rockland, Mass., a socialist, was elected to the house originally on the Sunday fishing issue, and, although a clergyman, for three years he has stood upon the floor of the house in advocacy of his bill to permit fishing on the Lord's day. The bill has met its third defeat.

THE TEAMSTERS' STRIKE GROWING

Ice and Coal Drivers Now Join in the Demonstration.

BOX-MAKERS IN IT

A General Tie-Up May Result if the Demands Are Not Granted.

HOTELS SUFFERING

Chicago, May 29.—Ice and coal teamsters came to the aid of the striking packers' teamsters this morning by refusing to deliver any ice or coal to any of the supply houses handling meats furnished by the packers who still refuse the teamsters' demands.

No effort was made today to deliver any meats to the downtown supply houses. As a consequence the hotels and larger restaurants will be without any meat in a few hours.

Boxmakers Out in Sympathy. For the first time since the inception of the fight the sympathetic strike made its appearance. Two hundred and twenty-five boxmakers, employed by the National Box company, Thirty-eighth street and Center avenue struck because they had been asked to furnish boxes to the packers against whom the teamsters are struggling. The company makes boxes for the Nelson Morris plant and Libby, McNeill & Libby.

President James H. Payne of the United Order of Boxmakers employed by the Angle American Provision Co. said they were likely to refuse to make boxes for the packers under the circumstances.

The American Express company refused to handle meat through fear that all its drivers, who are members of the teamsters' union, would strike.

Warn Team Owners

Owners of teams engaged in hauling for the packing companies were called to time by the teamsters and informed that unless they wanted their business tied up they would have to keep their teamsters out of the yards. This action on the part of the teamsters means the cutting off of all transportation of by-products. The influence of the teamsters was shown in this by the action of W. J. Moxley, who promised to buy no more lard or oleomargarine from the packers until they settled with the teamsters.

Put Meat Back

While men employed by the Goodrich Transportation Co. were unloading a wagon at the Armour depot, Franklin and South Water streets, a body of commission drivers appeared and made them put all the meat back into the wagon.

Up To Armour Co.

The packers who are anxious to settle charge the delay to Armour & Co. The objection to settlement lies in the belief that the packers think the recognition of the teamsters would be the opening wedge in the Stock-yards where the packers always have refused to make agreements with the unions, although they sometimes have met their representatives.

A victory by the teamsters, it is said would cost the packers $1,000,000 annually because it would mean the establishment of the standard wage scale in the Stock-yards which prevails in the city. At present the packing houses pay many of the trades little more than half what the men receive down town.

Longest Telegram on Record

The whole of the New Testament, as revised, was telegraphed from New York to Chicago to the Times of that city, to be set up as news for its issue of the 22d of May, 1882. Sixteen of the twenty pages of that day's Times were filled with this unique telegram of the entire New Testament. In December, 1887, the whole of Swinburne's tragedy, "Lochner," was sent by telegraph from London to the New York Times, occupying five hours in transmission.

Living in New York

The question has often been asked how much it costs to live in New York city. It costs as much as one is willing to spend. One can live and be comfortable, too, on a surprisingly small sum. The rates are varying. The latest compilation puts the minimum figure at $5 a week for board. The maximum figure is terrific. In Madison avenue the high-toned boarding mistresses ask $30 a week. Rooms alone can be had at all prices. You pay in advance for everything.

Few Executives Lacking

CALF IS A HEAVY WEIGHT
Weighed One Hundred Pounds When Only Three Hours Old

Herbert E. Spence, who resides near Milton, in the town of Lyra, is the owner of a Durham calf which is attracting a great deal of attention from farmers and stock raisers on account of its unusual size. The calf was born last Tuesday, May 27, and weighed one hundred pounds when only three hours old.

As the customary weight of a new born calf is from sixty to seventy pounds, this animal, which tips the scales at the one hundred mark, is a rare specimen. The ancestor of this remarkable calf is a full-blooded Durham, which was purchased by Robert Spence, father of Albert Spence from Robert Little, of the town of Janesville seventeen years ago.

Mr. Spence is very proud of this new acquisition to his fine herd of Durhams. He takes great interest in the raising of fancy stock and is quite an authority on the subject.

HARNESS MAKERS GO ON A STRIKE

Bassett & Echlin's Workmen Demand a New Scale of Wages.

The harness makers in the employ of Bassett & Echlin, went out on a strike yesterday morning on account of a difference in the scale of wages demanded by the piece workers and that which Bassett & Echlin were willing to pay.

There were only four men working on piece work of the whole force of nineteen men walked out when the demands of the piece workers were not acceded to.

Mr. Echlin does not consider the strike serious and there is not much difference in the scale asked for by the men and the prices which the firm are willing to pay. The men held a meeting yesterday and submitted a scale, which the firm would not accept. The firm made the men a proposition which they would not accept.

Present New Scale
This morning the men presented another scale which is nearer what the firm offered but which is not entirely satisfactory to them.

Mr. Echlin made the proposition to the men that he would go to Rockford, Chicago and Milwaukee and visit the different harness manufacturing and get the scale of wages and if the scale as paid by Bassett & Echlin was not up to what the outside factories were paying he would pay the scale demanded by the men.

No Friction Except On Pay
There is no friction between the men and their employers and the question to be settled is simply one of wages and there is no doubt but that the trouble will be satisfactorily adjusted during the week so that the factory can start up full force on Monday morning.

J. W. Bates, of Beloit was in the city yesterday on business. Mark W. McNamara of Kaukauna will spend decoration day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McNamara.

Two Miles of Lines
Fish Warden Secures a Large Amount of Set Lines

Deputy Game Warden Peter Drafiel has been spending a few days at Lake Koshkonong looking after the fishermen, who are using set lines. The fishermen have been quite careful up to the present time about using set lines, but have started in again stringing them all over the bays and even far out into the lake. The game wardens have not made much of a fight against a reasonable use of set lines by the people about the lake, who had them set to get fish to eat.

Yesterday Warden Drafiel made a search for lines that had been set out by professional fishermen, and succeeded in picking up about two miles of line that were out in the main part of the lake. He took the lines and hooks and destroyed them as the law directs.

RETURNS ON A SAD MISSION

Mrs. R. O. Hanson Brings Remains of G. M. Steele Here For Burial
Mrs. R. O. Hanson, of Boston, better known to Janesville friends as Miss Hattie M. Steele, formerly of this city, is in the city visiting friends but expects to return to her Boston home early next week. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Baltes, 203 North Jackson street and Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Evans, 171 Terrace street.

Mrs. Hanson came to this city two weeks ago last Monday on a very sad mission, that of laying the remains of her younger brother, the late George M. Steele in their final resting place in Oak Hill cemetery. Mr. Steele died in Boston on the ninth of May of Bright's Disease, having been in poor health for about two years. His serious illness was only of five weeks' duration. Had he lived until the twenty-ninth of this month he would have celebrated his thirty-fifth birthday.

Deceased was born in this city, was educated in the Janesville schools and lived here until eleven years ago when he went to Boston, following his sister, who had preceded him two years before. For some time he had charge of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul freight depot in this city. He was a genial, popular young man and had many friends here who were grieved to learn of his death.

Mr. Steele belonged to a family which was prominent in Janesville business and social circles several years ago. The members of the family were all active workers in the First Presbyterian church, which was their church home. The father and one brother are buried in Oak Hill cemetery but the aged mother, Mrs. C. P. Steele, is still living with her daughter in Boston. Besides his mother deceased leaves one brother, Clarence L. Steele, of Duxbury, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. R. O. Hanson and Miss Eva Steele, the latter being a teacher in the Boston public schools.

BLIND STUDENTS ENTERTAINED
Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Palmer Give Reception For the Graduating Class

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Palmer entertained the graduating class of the State School for the Blind at their home in Forest Park last evening. Their daughter, Carrie May, is a member of the class, which is composed of nine members, Elizabeth Emerson, of Janesville; Mildred McFate, of Waupun; Jessie Foster of Janesville; Alfred Felsel, of Sheboygan; William Dobbin, of Marinette; Daniel Roberts, of Baraboo; Samuel Edgert, of Stoughton and Millie Schmitz, of Eau Claire.

The former Superintendent, H. F. Bliss, and his wife were invited in to surprise the class and the evening passed very pleasantly in chat and song.

Mrs. Palmer served a tempting lunch and at ten o'clock the young people started for home as jolly a crowd as is often seen together. The closing exercises at the school will be held Wednesday afternoon, June 11.

LAST TRIBUTE TO PAUNCEFOTE

Remains Escorted to Church
by United States Infantry and Cavalry.

SERVICES ARE IMPRESSIVE

Vested Choir Sings the Ambassador's
Favorite Hymns. After Which Bishop
Satterlee Pronounces Benediction
—Warship to Take Body Home.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Official Washington paid its tribute to the late Lord Pauncefote with an elaborate funeral service in which every department of the national government, the diplomatic corps, the army, and the navy took a part.

The ceremonies began with a solemn procession from the British Embassy to St. John's Church, where the funeral service was held, after which, with a smaller escort of troops, the casket was carried to the Rock Creek Cemetery, where it was placed in the receiving vault to await transportation on an American warship to England.

Since Lord Pauncefote's death last Saturday morning his remains had been lying in state in the embassy building.

The funeral escort was composed of the second squadron of the Second Cavalry and the cavalry band, mounted on white horses; the Fourth Field Battery, the Third Battalion of United States Engineers and band, and a battalion of United States marines and band. Major William M. Black commanded the engineers, Captain V. F. M. Foote the battery, and Captain L. M. Brett the cavalrymen.

The soldiers were aligned on either side of Connecticut avenue and the adjacent streets, and stood at rest while the clergymen and pallbearers entered the embassy building. The services at the church were similar to those which marked the memorial service to the late Queen Victoria. The choir of forty men and boys took part in the service, at Lady Pauncefote's request, and the three hymns sung in the body of the service also were of her personal selection.

The services over, the Bishop then advanced to the front of the chancel and pronounced the last words that will be spoken over the remains before their interment at the ancestral home at Preston, England.

At the express wish of the family the escort from the church to the cemetery was limited to a single squadron of United States cavalry, which passed at first slowly and then more rapidly between the lines of troops at "present arms." Not even the honorary pallbearers were called on to accompany the remains further than the church. The remains were taken directly to Rock Creek Cemetery, where they were placed in the receiving vault.

Washington, May 29.—The civil service commission has decided that funds were solicited and collected for the presidential campaign of 1900 from employees under Collector of Internal Revenue Henry of Terre Haute, Ind., with his approval and co-operation, but holds that the evidence does not justify the institution of criminal proceedings against him or any of his subordinates. ## Danderine.

The Great Hair Tonic is a Positive and Thorough Anti-septic

MRS. DENSMORE, CHICAGO.

It quickly eradicates all trace of scalp bacteria, which is the cause of hair falling, dandruff and baldness. NO SCALP CAN BE HEALTHY AND NO HAIR CAN BE BEAUTIFUL WHEN CONTAMINATED WITH THESE DISEASE-BREEDING CREATURES; they undermine the hair and devour all the nutriment or life-sap of the scalp, without which the scalp dries up and peels off, forming dandruff and causing the loss of hair. DANDERINE IS THE ONLY REMEDY IN THE WORLD THAT WILL DESTROY THESE GERMS; it penetrates the scalp thoroughly, carrying with it all the necessary properties to quickly regenerate all the impoverished parts. It rebuilds the lost tissues of the scalp and restores the growth of the hair in every case. A few applications will make the hair fairly sparkle with new life and vigor. # THE STATE UNIVERSITY

Waether E. Benjamin Andrews will be the next president of the State university or not, it is reasonably certain that the Board of Regents are considering him as a candidate. While Mr. Andrews is a good educator, he enjoys an unenviable reputation before the American people on account of his radical and unsafe views on questions of public policy, that are of vital import to the welfare of the nation.

He was president of Brown university during the first Bryan campaign, and his sympathy with Bryanism was so pronounced that he felt constrained to seek a more congenial atmosphere. The East was a unit on sound money, and so he came west, and through the influence of Mayor Harrison secured the superintendency of the city schools, displacing one of the best men that Chicago ever had in that position.

Two years of life in Illinois was enough for him and he gently folded his tent and landed in Nebraska to be a neighbor to Bryan and enjoy the remnants of waning populism. Public sentiment said the move was a good one, and that he had finally struck his element. If he has changed his views on free silver and other fads it is not a matter of record.

Just why the board of regents should show a disposition to foist this kind of a man on to the state of Wisconsin and place him at the head of the university is a question that is agitating the minds of the people. It may not have occurred to the board that the state was humiliated in the last National Campaign by the knowledge of the fact that the university was honeycombed with Bryanism and that more than one third of the faculty was tainted with his pernicious doctrines.

All that the institution lacked to make it a hot bed of Bryanism was a man at the head of it of the Andrews stripe, and this the board seems disposed to supply. With a governor given over to populistic theories, and a university in accord, the state would be fairly launched in a crusade, that, left to its own sweet will, would put to blush the states of Kansas and Nebraska, in their palmy days.

Notice has already been served on the governor, that it is time to call a halt; and the board of Regents should be given to understand that the university belongs to the people and that the young men who enjoy its advantages, are entitled to better treatment. These boys will be citizens in the near future and if they are to perpetuate Americanism, they should be taught the principles vital to the life and perpetuity of government.

FIRST DISTRICT OF ROCK

The experience of the last few days has demonstrated that the republican sentiment in First Assembly District is loyal to the party and that LaFolletteism is not in the ascendancy. While it is true that the district sent to the convention a small majority of LaFollette supporters, it is also true, as the vote is analyzed, that this majority gained control in the towns represented, not by republican support, but by democratic aid, the same tactics being used that were so persistently applied in the city.

Edgerton has long been a democratic stronghold. So long as fair-minded democrats are invited to aid LaFolletteism it will be a LaFollette town. The governor's supporters among the republicans, which are just now in the ascendancy, are so destitute of appreciation, that the county will not have occasion to consider them in future county campaigns. They are blind to self interest and so wedded to LaFollette that when he retires from public life they will camp in his back yard so as to enjoy the influence of his benign presence.

With the other towns in the district the case is different, and when the defeated LaFolletteites take time to analyze the situation, they will thank the republican party for saving them from themselves.

Republicanism in the county, in the interests of harmony, has permitted LaFollette to play horse with the county for the past six years. After his ambitions had been realized, and he was given full reign, the cloven hoof became so obnoxious that the party stood up in its might and called a halt. The call has been observed, and back of it is the republican sentiment of the county. The scattering towns in the First district will realize that the county is a unit and that it is better to be in line with the procession than chasing a will-o-the-wisp. If there is any reason why any republican in the county should support LaFollette, in preference to a home candidate for governor, it has not yet been stated. The opposition to Senator Whitehead, outside of the few LaFollette republicans, is saloon and democratic opposition. Men who represent absolutely nothing in the republican party.

This class of support will have no voice in the county convention, and the towns that have thus far been dominated by it, will realize the utter hopelessness of continuing this kind of warfare. The county will be a unit in the state convention as it should be, and the first district should lose no time in getting in line.

RACINE COUNTY.

The lack of harmony in the Racine county delegation, at the Congressional convention last Tuesday, was a matter of surprise and comment. Racine came to the convention asking that her candidate for congress be endorsed, and yet by vote or refusing to vote, a portion of her delegates refused the honor that she asked at the hands of the convention.

Two of the delegates from the western district, Rich. of Burlington, and Colby, of Union Grove, are postmasters in their respective towns, appointed by the man to whom they accorded half hearted support. The excuse given by the western district delegation is altogether too flimsy to carry weight. While professing to be friendly to their own candidate for congress, they were not willing to endorse Rock County's candidate for governor. They appear to have forgotten the fact that Racine is under peculiar obligation to Rock, and that the policy adopted was an insult to intelligent republicanism in Racine.

A political significance attaches to their action that men of ordinary sagacity would have taken into account. These delegates deliberately said to the district, we propose to cast our interests with the minority, ignoring the fact that Rock, Walworth and Kenosha are a unit and that these three counties control the district. It is possible that the ambition of Racine county has been realized so far as a congressman is concerned, the action of the county yesterday would indicate as much. Mr. Cooper is unfortunate in a home constituency and while he is not responsible for the unwise course pursued, by men who professed to be friendly to him, he can not help but feel annoyed. It was poor politics and showed a total lack of appreciation.

WALWORTH COUNTY

When Mr. Barnes stood up in the convention and said "Walworth county casts 20 votes for the resolutions of endorsement," no one was surprised, because Walworth is noted for two or three things. In the first place, the county is neither annoyed nor corrupted by any large centers of population. Municipal corruption is not known, because the county lacks the municipalities. The atmosphere is wholesome and intensely republican.

Then the county is noted for conservatism. A bad would have no more chance in Walworth county than a volcano. The people possess horse sense and they exercise it every day. LaFolletteism strikes the county, as water strikes a duck and with about the same effort. A populist in Walworth would be a curiosity. If they had one, they would put him on exhibition in their museum at Geneva Lake, to help entertain their picnic crowds.

Game Wardens and oil inspectors are a novelty in Walworth. The people are law abiding citizens, and there are no lame ducks to capture. The county is a unit for republicanism, with John M. Whitehead as their candidate for Governor.

TIME TO GROW.

Ex-senator Malm, of Moulson, was an interested spectator at the congressional convention, last Tuesday. Mr. Malm has known LaFollette from boyhood and he says that for a glad hand and hypnotic smile, he beats any man of his acquaintance. In speaking of the blind devotion of a Dane county Scandinavian, he said this man was describing the governor to him one day last fall, and in his enthusiasm, he said: "I think he was the greatest man what ever lived." "You don't think him as great as Blaine, do you?" "Oh, yes, he was bigger man than Blaine." "Well, you don't think he was as great as Lincoln?" "Oh, yes, he was bigger than Lincoln." This was a sticker and finally Mr. Malm said: "Well, you don't think he is as great a man as the Lord Jesus Christ?" "Oh, yes, he was bigger an him too." "What, greater than the Son of God?" "Oh, vell, he might not be youst so big yet, but he was a young man you know and he vill get bigger every year."

That was before Dahle was sacrificed. There are a few men in Rock county who are inspired with the same blind enthusiasm. To their distorted vision LaFollette overshadows the republican party, old associations, and everything else. If this class of admirers will take a day off for self communion, they will discover that Mr. LaFollette never accomplished any thing for the state, and is in no position to accomplish any thing should he be permitted to succeed himself. He represents in a supremely selfish way, himself and not the party that has honored him. Loyalty to principle is always commendable, but zeal for a man who at best is a hobbyist, borders on fanaticism and is never entitled to sympathy or very much respect.

GREEN COUNTY

Republicanism was poorly represented in the Green county delegation and LaFolletteism was very largely in evidence. The county was unfortunate in not having leaders of foresight, and good political judgment. The minority with which their fortunes were allied, was so hopelessly small that retirement in good order, was the only practical thing to do, but instead of this, under leadership of Mr. Douglass, of Monroe, the delegates were forced to go on record, as opposed to everything, including the national administration, Senator Spooner and the principles of the republican party. If Mr. Douglass had retired from the convention with his little band of faithful followers, or if he had advised then not to vote, reputation might have been saved, but this he failed to do. It is safe to say that Green county republicanism will be better represented in the state convention.

KENOSHA COUNTY

Kenosha county is not only loyal to congressman Cooper, but she was equally loyal to conservative republicanism and glad of an opportunity to go on record. Her loyalty to principle endorsed cheerfully the candidacy of Senator Whitehead for governor. The delegation was composed of intelligent, level headed men, and back of them was a constituency who believes in republicanism of the old fashioned sort.

There are a good many counties in the state that will follow the pace set by Kenosha county. The state has not gone daffy on LaFolletteism and when the people have an opportunity to express themselves on questions of state importance, there will be no uncertain sound. Kenosha is training in good company, and the county will not be lonesome in the state convention.

LA FAYETTE COUNTY

When Mr. Nolan addressed the delegate from New Diggins, as the oil inspector from LaFayette, the convention had an opportunity to recognize the man who voted eight proxies at Darlington the other day, and when the delegation from this county voted with the minority, it was plain to be seen that back of them was a limited constituency. The county belongs in the conservative column, and it will be found there at the next convention. While LaFayette may be proud of the fact that the county is the birth place of the governor, the republicans of the county are very glad to know that they are not responsible for him since he became governor. They will set the seal of disapproval upon his acts at the state convention.

OHIO CONVENTION IS HARMONIOUS

Friendly Rivalry Marks the Efforts to Secure Places on the Ticket.

HANNA AND BUSHNELL MAKE UP

Bridge the Chasm Which Has Separated Them and Declare Their Friendship—Platform Favors Union
Labor and Opposes the Trusts.

Secretary of State
Lewis C. Laylin of Norwalk
Judge of Supreme Court
William H. Crew of McConnsville
Food and Dairy Commissioner
Horace Ankeny of Xenia
Member of the Board of Public Works
William Kirtley, Jr., of Defiance

Cleveland, O., May 29.—Harmony was the keynote struck by the Republican state convention. Hanna and his friends had little opposition, and just before the convention adjourned the senator was given a remarkable demonstration of loyalty.

One of the features of the day was the reconciliation between Senator Hanna and ex-Governor Bushnell. They had not spoken since the memorable senatorial contest in 1897, but they met through the efforts of mutual friends and declare they are friends henceforth.

A state ticket was nominated, not without considerable rivalry, but all of a friendly character.

Gov. Nash, as temporary chairman, called the convention to order. The report making Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor permanent chairman and continuing the rest of the temporary organization was adopted. When Gov. Nash presented Gen. Grosvenor, the latter delivered an address in which he discussed the political issues confronting the people of the United States to-day.

Chairman Dick of the committee on resolutions then presented the platform, which was adopted. The platform begins with a tribute to the memory of the late President McKinley and with a pledge to sustain President Roosevelt.

Favors Union Labor.

The platform declares in favor of union labor. On this subject the resolutions declare: "To secure for labor the consideration it deserves; to uphold the dignity of toil; to create a healthy public opinion on the subject of labor and the justice of its receiving a full share of the values it creates; to bring labor and capital together on common ground in the adjustment of such questions as may concern these two great factors in production, it is necessary that labor should be intelligently organized. We believe in fewer hours and larger rewards for labor, and favor such laws as will harmonize the interests of labor and capital and tend to lighten the burden of toil."

The resolutions commend congress for renewing the Chinese exclusion act. A liberal pension policy is favored; also the extension of the rural free delivery, a substantial and uninterrupted increase in the navy, and the construction of an isthmian canal.

Taking up the subject of trusts the platform says: "We recognize the necessity of co-operation in order to meet the new conditions in the industrial world and to compete successfully for the world's markets; but all combinations that stifle competition, control prices, limit production or unduly increase profits or values, and especially when they raise the prices of the necessities of life, are opposed to public policy and should be repressed with a strong hand."

Concerning the Philippines the platform says: "We congratulate the president and the army upon the satisfactory progress made in the Philippines in suppressing insurrection and establishing order, and we unqualifiedly indorse the policy of our government in those islands. The war with Spain was forced on us against our will, and the Philippines came to us as one of the results of that conflict. We are responsible for peace and order in the islands, and our sovereignty must be as absolute as our responsibility. Our title to the islands is as perfect as was that of Spain after nearly 400 years of undisputed possession. We will give their people better government, better schools, more civil and political rights and a higher civilization and broader freedom than is possible for them in any other way. Our flag is in the Philippines, and there it will remain."

Ovation to Hanna.

Before the secretaries could announce the result of the last ballot there were loud and repeated calls for Senator Hanna, and the greatest demonstration of the convention occurred as he was being escorted to the platform. The convention had been in continuous session from 10 a. m. until almost 4 p. m., but the senator received the closest attention and appeared at his best in the most forcible delivery. He said in part:

"Of course, as in all campaigns, there are issues which the Democratic party are trying to make for us upon national questions. They have talked in the halls of Congress for days and weeks upon a question which the Republicans of the United States settled last year, but we can pardon them, for it is all they have left.

"But how are they making this issue? Standing before the American people and proclaiming that the policy of President McKinley was wrong—morally wrong.

"Why, Republicans of Ohio, I blush to have to say that it seems to me almost an insult to his memory that such things could be said upon the floor of the United States Senate against a man whom not only the Republicans of Ohio but the Republicans of the nation worship.

"Shame upon a party that will attempt to bring that name into disrepute and dishonor through his policies inaugurated, as it were, in the interest of humanity!

"A new era is dawning upon this country. Our great development has reached a point that has placed us in the front rank of nations not only by the power and weight of our affairs but also because we have become the greatest manufacturing and industrial nation of the world. That development is a natural consequence of the evolutions that are going on. Labor capital are approaching each other in the proper spirit."

At the conclusion of Senator Hanna's speech there was another demonstration. After the adoption of the eagle as the party emblem and resolutions of thanks for the unusual entertainment in Cleveland, the state committee was authorized to fill all vacancies, and the convention adjourned.

FATE PURSUES HIM.

Six Times William J. Rohr Has Been Almost Dead.

Five Times He Was the Victim of Accidents, the Sixth Time He Tried to Cross the River Styx by Himself.

"Probably no man ever lived who has not at one time or another asked himself the question: 'How does it feel to die?'"

In Minneapolis, says the Chicago Tribune, there lives a man who not only has asked the question, but is able to answer it as well. He has in reality died six times, yet is alive and in the best of health to-day. This man, whose experiences baffle comparison, is William J. Rohr. Since he was a boy going to school he has traveled six different routes attempting to cross the River Styx, but each time, as he expresses it: "St. Peter turned away and announced a false alarm." Rohr is confident that the slender thread that holds his life possesses marvelous strength, for he has passed through the following ordeals each of which brought him near death:

Fell through hole in the ice while skating on a mill pond; unconscious when taken from the water.

Fell into a river while protecting a bridge against an ice floe; unconscious when taken from the water.

Smothered in an airtight trunk while hiding in a game of "hide and seek"; unconscious when found.

Fell over a precipice in St. Paul to the ground below, a distance of 103 feet; unconscious when picked up.

Stricken with consumption and given up to die, but refused to allow physicians to have their way.

Attempted suicide by shooting himself twice in the breast with a revolver; unconscious when picked up, but not dead.

What is rather unusual in Mr. Rohr is that he has experienced the novelty of writing about his own death sensations. "When I slid under the ice of the mill pond this was the beginning of a series of accidents that have followed me to this day," he says. "As my slide carried me to the edge of the thin ice and into the water thoughts began to flash through my brain."

"What would mother and father say when my lifeless body had been recovered?—if ever?"

"With the shouts of my playmates ringing in my ears, I passed through and made a supreme effort to drink all the water under the ice."

"The passage of such large quantities of water through my nostrils gave me a strangling, suffocating sensation, which in turn gave way to one that seemed to be a desire to fly—to wave the arms—and then a bump, and it faintly dawned on my drowning mind that it was the ice which covered the pond."

"The last sensation was as if floating away on the crest of fleecy clouds as they swept through the sky on a summer's day, then unconsciousness."

"When I came to there was a disagreeable sensation of some one trying to use my arms for pump handles. A pressing down on the chest, and at last a voice crying: 'He lives.'"

The sixth time came near being the charm, for Rohr shot himself. He aimed for his heart, but here again fate pursued him and would not let him die, even when he was ready. Describing this attempt at suicide Rohr says:

"Advancing before a mirror so as to better see what I was doing, I grasped the handle and pressed the muzzle to my breast and pulled the trigger."

"A flash, a report, and I felt something like a sudden prick of a pin in my side. Well, what was the trouble?"

"I guessed that the muzzle had deflected in the effort required to pull the trigger."

"There was a numbness coming over me, and I realized that if I was to end it all I must forthwith insert another bullet nearer in."

"Frenzied with rage and frenzied at the unsuccessful first effort, I again pressed the weapon to a place where I thought the heart must be, and as the realization came over me that this was to be the end of all my sleeplessness and the heat, I seemed to float over the fact that they could be cheated so easily."

"When consciousness returned, for, strange to relate, I had not succeeded in my design, I found the room filled with strangers and a physician kneeling by my side as I lay on the floor."
